

BRAND IDENTITY · LYZMA INDUSTRIES

A hand-lettered identity for a jewellery brand: 6 decisions behind it.

01 · THE BRIEF

Handcrafted luxury, without losing the hand.

Lyzma Industries makes handcrafted, African-inspired jewellery. Too polished and it loses its soul. Too raw and it loses its premium feel. The identity had to live in the middle.

THE BRIEF, IN ONE SENTENCE

Refined enough for high-end jewellery, warm enough to honour the craft behind every piece.

02 · LETTERING

Lettered, not typed.

The jewellery is made by hand, so the name is too. A signature, not a font.

03 · THE MARK

Circles from textile and beadwork.

Concentric circles inspired by African craft traditions. Rooted in culture, without being literal.

04 · COLOUR

One colour: warm gold.

Gold on white lets the jewellery speak in photos, and it is easy to reproduce on tags and bags.

05 · TYPE

A script, and a quiet partner.

The lettered wordmark carries the voice. Everything around it stays quiet, so it never competes.

06 · APPLICATIONS

Where it lives.

Shopping bags, tags, stickers that say Hi and Bonjour, and the feed.
