CASE STUDY · WEBSITE

The Ivory Sukundu: a website, from problem to launch.

A luxury hair-extensions brand, and a store that answers the questions customers ask.

SWIPE →

01 · PROBLEM

Bought on trust, and on a number.

Which length, how many bundles, which texture. A standard store template answered none of it.

WHAT CUSTOMERS KEPT ASKING

Where does 24 inches land on me?

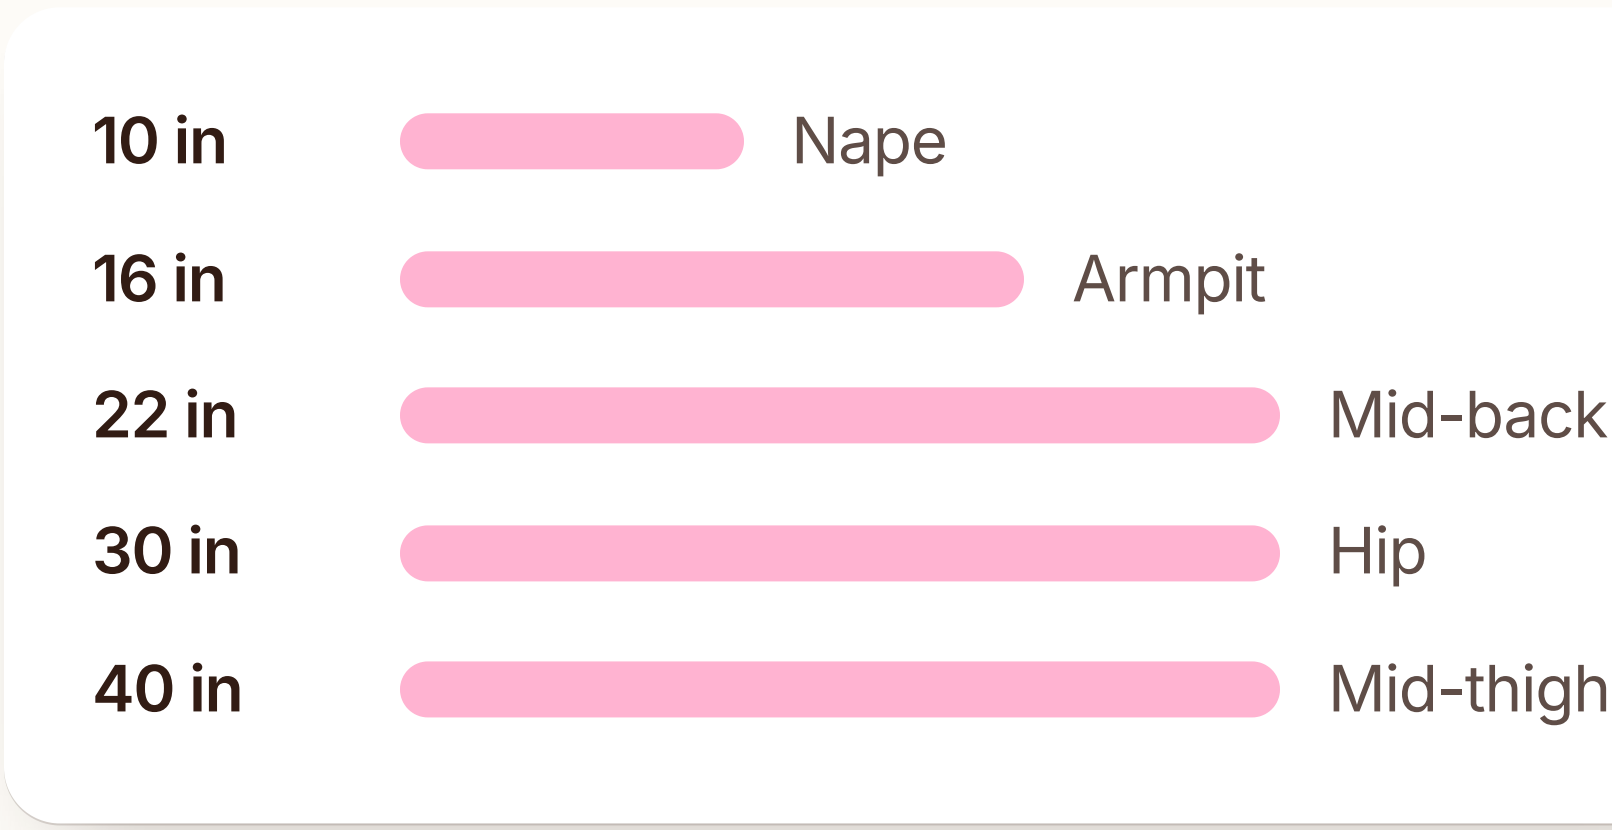

How many bundles for a full look?

Straight or curly, for my routine?

02 · RESEARCH

Turn each question into a tool.

Length became a guide: sixteen lengths from 10 to 40 inches, where each lands and how many bundles it takes. Texture became a quiz.

03 · WIREFRAME

The order of things, before any colour.

Shop, then decide, then belong. This is where the site was actually decided.

04 · DESIGN

Quiet luxury, on a phone.

Ivory, espresso and a little gold, an editorial serif, and nothing that looks like a discount store.

The quiz
one question at a time

The Circle
loyalty, in three steps

05 · LAUNCH

Live, then a store of its own.

JULY 2026

theivorysukundu.com goes live

OCTOBER 2026

The store leaves Shopify: its own catalogue, bag and checkout

NOVEMBER 2026

The owner edits her site in place, from her dashboard

06 · WHAT IT DOES

Every question became a tool.

ON THE SITE TODAY

A length guide: where each length lands on the body

A 60-second quiz, one question at a time

Follow Kee for design, tech and building in public.

Save this ↓

KREEATIVE.XYZ